Magellan Health Continues to Develop Digital Therapies through Enhanced Collaboration with Click Therapeutics

Magellan leveraging industry-leading therapeutic apps in new markets via FDA clearance to help people with insomnia, substance abuse, depression and anxiety

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Magellan Health (NASDAQ: MGLN), recognized as a leading provider of software-based tools to increase the integration of and access to behavioral health treatment, continues to develop digital therapies by expanding its collaboration with Click Therapeutics to pursue a new avenue: Food and Drug Administration (FDA) clearance for therapeutic apps. Click will leverage Magellan's portfolio of software programs and associated intellectual property and data to create mobile apps for people challenged by conditions such as insomnia, substance abuse, depression and anxiety and apply for FDA clearance for such apps on the basis of valid scientific evidence supporting the safety and effectiveness of the software. This augments Magellan's work to provide broad-based, digital and data-driven programs for primary care and specialty care providers.

"This collaboration is a great example of how Magellan is utilizing its industry-leading capabilities to provide healthcare solutions to people in a convenient and personalized way," said Barry M. Smith, chairman and chief executive officer of Magellan Health. "Click has a similar interest in the market, and both companies have complementary skill sets. I'm excited to continue our work together."

"Using the industry-leading suite of intellectual property and data from Magellan's existing software, integrated with Click's leading patient engagement platform, Click will seek regulatory clearance from the FDA to provide indication-specific prescription digital therapies," said David Benshoof Klein, chief executive officer of Click Therapeutics. "We appreciate Magellan's innovative spirit and focus on helping people address common mental health challenges in a personalized and convenient way, and are excited to leverage Magellan's vast coverage and reimbursement expertise to make digital therapeutics widely accessible to commercial and government health insurance beneficiaries."

Last year, Magellan launched a tobacco cessation program with Click Therapeutics leveraging Magellan's clinical coaching and pharmacy benefit management (PBM) capabilities with Click's technology and machine learning platform, including the mobile application, CLICKOTINE[®], to create an all-in-one solution.

Magellan's computerized cognitive behavioral therapy (CCBT) modules have undergone numerous clinical trials in which they have matched, and in some instances exceeded, those reached by conventionally delivered cognitive behavioral therapy. In addition, Cobalt has received the highest rating from the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Administration's (SAMHSA) National Registry of Evidence-based Programs and Practices (NREPP).
